To Whom It May Concern:

As one of your constituents as a member/supporter of the Association for Specialized and Cooperative Library Agencies, I am writing to ask that you oppose the elimination of the Institute of Museum and Library Services, which the White House budget is proposing to do. Libraries help people of all ages to succeed in school, jobs, their communities and their everyday lives. Without libraries, our nation will lose access to those skilled in finding authoritative information resources needed for personal, academic and professional growth. Librarians are essential in providing resources for people with disabilities and helping create a nation of learners, readers, thinkers and makers. Libraries depend on funding from IMLS to provide the services and resources people depend on, especially those in low-income households. Please take action to ensure that IMLS is not eliminated and gets the funding it needs to help our nation grow and succeed.
